Loyola Retreat House

Directed Retreats

July 15-22, 2012

The Individually Directed Retreat is one in which a retreatant is guided daily through a process of prayer by a personal director. Within an atmosphere of silence, there is time for personal prayer and reflection based on scripture. Although such a retreat can have various goals depending on one's needs, personal renewal is fundamental.

May this rich spirituality be a stepping stone for you to become more intimate with the Lord. May it also attract you to look for deeper spiritual endeavors.
